What we will review today....

- What are letters of recommendation?
- Who uses them?
- What is the process?
- *Pointers on filling out the LOR Packet

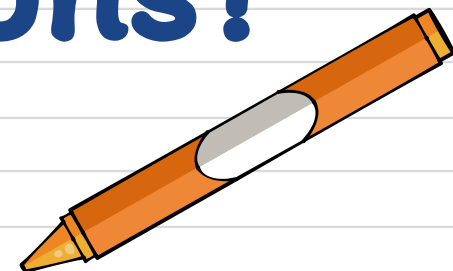

What are letters of recommendations?

Also known as LOR

What are LORs?

- Letters of recommendation are provided to students for private colleges, some UCs, and some scholarships as part of the application process.
- They are written by teachers and counselors.
- They are carefully crafted letters that are specially written for each student and given to the Colleges to brag about how wonderful you are.

○ FERPA

What is the process?

- ETHS has a packet that is completed by the student.
- The summer is a great time to get started on the packet.

Please click here.

How should I fill it out?

Be as thorough as possible.

- Email your teachers before sending them anything.
- Pick a teacher that was recent and/or that has to do with your major if possible

Do not talk about the same thing over and over

Complete the entire packet and on time

Counselor
Emails

Make sure you use the correct email for your counselor on common app

Anything is possible

Cover Letter

There is a cover letter on the front of the packet that is really important.
Please make sure you list
all the colleges you are applying to and the deadline.

A Timeline Always Works Well

Thanks!
